PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Hello Fellow Residents

I hope you are beginning to enjoy the warmer weather. Spring seemed to never come and we are moving right into summer.

The pool opened this past weekend with the new solar heating system which seems to be doing a good job of warming the water.

Bocce began this past Tuesday, May 31st.

The annual yard sale will take place on Saturday June 25th.

Hometown has refurbished the horseshoe pits which is played Saturday mornings at 10 am

The Board wants to thank the Recreation Committee for the Horse Racing held in May. The upcoming events are the Ladies Luncheon on June 7th and the annual July BBQ being held on Sunday July 3rd. As a reminder it is important to sign up in the Clubhouse for events in order to facilitate proper planning.

We are still using the Email System to send out notices. Please make sure that we have your email address or one of your children's email and they will get the notification for you.

Please remember to contact our Foxtale advertisers for estimates. Their advertising payments allow us to continue to subsidize various functions throughout the year.

If there are any issues, problems, or questions, don't hesitate to contact me or any other member of the Board

Thank you for your support and stay well.

Sincerely,

Kevin Finnegan, HOA President

Note from the Editor

There is a metal box labeled "Fox Tales" on the front porch of #81 for anyone to drop off any articles, notes, or letters for next issue. Please submit all materials by the 23rd of the month before each issue. This gives me time to finish before the publishing deadline.

Thank you.

Susan Cordaro, Editor, Fox Tales

Community Announcements

Our Foxwood Village Book Club continues to meet on the third Wednesday of the month at 2:00 PM in the clubhouse.

In April we read the The Little Old Lady Who Broke All the Rules, an entertaining and funny story about a group of rebellious senior citizens who steal a museum masterpiece.

In May we read Educated, a more serious selection written by Tara Westover. Her memoir tells the story of her life as the child of a survivalist Mormon father and a mother who failed to protect and nurture her and her six siblings. The author not only survived, but even left her parent's home attend school and eventually earn a Ph.D from Cambridge.

In June we will be having a luncheon at The Bayard Cutting Museum, and in July we'll meet on the 20th to discuss The Lost Boys of Montauk by Amanda M. Fairbanks. This exciting true story is about the Wind Blown, a fishing boat that left Montauk in March of 1984, and never returned.

We invite everyone to join us at any time. Just come to a meeting and give it a try. You might be pleasantly surprised!

"If you don't like to read, you haven't found the right book."

J. K. Rowling

* Bowling is always Monday at 12:00pm*

I recently attended a performance of the "No Doubt World Famous Monday Night Band." This group of talented musicians is conducted by one of our own, Michael Cordaro. Michael and Susan are fairly new residents. Susan is Foxtales Editor.

I was impressed by Michael's talent and enthusiasm in conducting the band. He has an impressive musical history and I am happy they chose to live in Foxwood.
